

Superior engineering, proven project management, and GE's service network mean lower ownership costs.

Since most substations are competitively bid, we would like the opportunity to demonstrate that GE's proven engineering and project strengths can be more cost effective than our competitors. We believe that our experience will translate into both short- and long-term savings for you. Plus, you'll have the reassurance of the GE service network for the life of the substation.

For more information, contact your local GE sales office or field engineering service office today. Or call 1-518-746-5263.

GE Industrial Systems

GEA-12010A (01/99-10M)

26482 1-2

